The open space with a column in the center was filled with a frame made of steel tubes. The frame hasn't been trimmed with any decorative materials except of metal cover, which can be easily replaced by wood, stone, paper wall, cart or whatever. The conception goes first and stays the same. How the idea of a module works. 2.8 m ceiling conventionally divided by 4 is 0.7 m, pace which can be accepted as a module for a spatial interior design. For instance: 0.7 m times 3 are 2,1m, it's the height of the doors and entresol location; double 0.7 m is the height of display cabinet unit in the living room, 0,7m times 4 is for bookshelves.
